Rumor shout Chass.

From the N. Y. Herald of this morning. There is reason to believe that the Chase movement for the Presidency will be inaugurated in the Convention to-day. The New York delegation is supposed to have made up its mind to go as a unit for the Chief Justice and the Southern delegates, befuenced by the fact that five Judges of the Supreme Court, at the head of whom stands Mr. Chase, have decided upon rendering a favorable opinion in the McCardie case, and thus relieving the Southern people of the most oppressive feature of the despotism under which they labor, have resolved on sustaining New York, and backed up by Fennsylvania and the entire Eastern States, will make a considerable inroad on Mr. Pendieture.

The Blair Movement and the Fentans has not diminished in force in consequence of yesterday's proceedings. It was expected by many that the half vote given for Blair on the first ballot and the scattering votes cast for him at a later period of the proceedings settled the question so far as the General was concerned; but inquiry at the Worth House and at other piaces where Blair men congregate showed that such was not the case. Delegates known to be pleaged to support him laughed when asked the meaning of their inaction yesterday, and asked that judgment on their conjuct might be sus-pended for a few days. They expressed the same confidence in the result of their labors and displayed the same quiet determination in their cause which has characterized them since Bisir's name was mentioned in connection with the Presidency.

A strong delegation of frishmen, leaders of the New York Fenians and officers of the Brotherhood, met at a late hour last night and resolved to present to the New York delegation this morning at 10 o'clock an ultimatum which they fister themselves will have the effect of securing the nomination for General Blair. They propose to tell the New York ring that Blair, having given satisfactory proofs of his willingness to bring the Alabama claims and the naturalization question to a satisfactory settlement if elected to the Presidency, they must either vote for him is the Convention to day or be prepared to meet arrayed against the Democracy at the polls whole battailons of voting Fenians. They will declare their determination to prevent the lection to State and municipal offices of every New York politician, at least, who cannot show that he has given hearty support to their favorite candidate. Should General Blat be

The peculiar tactics of New York.

The peculiar tactics of the New York delegation are most puzzling to their country confreres. Believed to be in favor of Chase, they camnot understand why it is trey have not brought forward his name, but have, instead, nominated an individual, aimost a comparatively unknown man, and have persistently and as a unit cast their State vote for him on every ballot, notwithstanding he falled to gain a single vote, and the idea of his nomination appeared absurd. They cannot understand this, and say, if they really mean Chase and only use Church as a blind why do they not nominate the man they wish to steet and not take up the time of the Convention with bagatele balloting? They are not likely, however, to have their doubts resolved very early this morning, as the New Yorkers held a caucus iast evening and decided to stick to Church for a while yet. This will give an opportunity for Pendleton to develope his utmost strength, and if it falls short of success to decline, when Ohlo may be prepared, by perceiving his chances gradually falling off, to perceiving his chances gradually falling off, to accept or present another native of that State than him—Judge Chase—in which event Pennsylvania would likewise change, when the entire Southern States, failing into line, would insure his nomination.

The Pennsylvania Delegation.

From the N. Y. Tribune of this morning. From the N. Y. Tribune of this morning.

A secret meeting of this delegation was held last night at Irving Hall. Several of the more prominent members indulged in oratorical efforts in support of strategic measures to be acted upon in the Convention to-day, but rhodomontade was soon dropped, and the delegation proceeded to business of a more serious character. The claims of Judge Packer, for whom the delegates voted in a body yesterday were urged with vehemence, and his chances for the nomination calmly discussed. The result of the pow-wow was a upanimous yote in for the nomination calmiy discussed. The result of the pow-wow was a unsnimous vote in favor of Judge Packer; and unless a sudden change should take place before 9 o'clock this morning, at which time the delegation will hold another meeting, the representatives of the Pennsylvania Democracy will give their favorite a solid vots.

Ohio and Pendleton. The delegates from Obio ciaim a large increase over the last ballot since the adjournment of the Convention, but they do not indicate what dele-Convention, but they do not indicate what delegations have given in their adhesion since four o'clock yesterday afternoon. They feel confident that to-day's ballotings will said their candidate's vote up to 170 or 180, and that he will be nominated before the day closes. The rooms of General McCook were througed by leading politicians during the entire evening, and the signs of heavy log-rolling and other political exercise were quite apparent. The loud-mouthed followers of the delegation have mainly departed and the earnest workers alone mainly departed, and the earnest workers alone remain. The effect was manifest in the lobbles of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, in the comparative quiet that prevailed, and the less frequent calls for the police to disperse knots of angry disputants who blocked the passages.

Gossip.

A private letter from the headquarters of the Soldiers and Saliors to a member of the Demo-eratic Club of Charleston, S. C., and purporting to come from the private Secretary of General Hancock, reads as follows:-

Hancock, reads as follows:—

Major General Hancock received your letter on the 5th instant, while on a visit to this city, and was much pleased to hear from an officer of his old corps. The public and private expressions of confidence he has received from the citizens and solders of the country are very warmly appreciated by him. At the same time he does not seek advancement in the civil service of the nation, nor will be permit his name to be used in antagonism with any portion of the Damocratic party. If the delegates assembled in convention on the Fourth of July next should deem it necessary for the success of the Democratic party that he should carry their standard, and upon a proper platform, his duty would impel him to accept it. I am, with great respect, very truly yours.

The adoption of the platform by the Demo-cratic Convention is the subject of much talk among the financial men down town, who sub-scribe to the doctrines of the party, as a general thing; the proposed action of the Democracy in gard to the payment of the national debt and the regulation of the currency, meets with the approbation of the money dealers.

A large number of the leaders of the Fenian organization are actively using their influence with the members of the Tammany Conven-tion in favor of the nomination of General Frank Blair, who is regarded by them as a tried

A correspondent wrote to the Cincinnati Com-mercial on Sunday, as follows:-"New Yorkers are already trying their favorite game, in the are already trying their favorite game, in the use of money. Knowing ones say they have bought a few delegates from the South. The night before last a New Yorker entered the room of General Forrest, of Tennessee, who was in bed, and introduced himself as a Chase Democrat. After conversing a few moments he directly proposed to buy Forrest, who shapped him in the mouth, and springing up in his shirt tail he gave the pecuniary messenger a violent barefoot kick as he fled through the door."

The Press on the Platform.

From the N. Y. Tribune. This piatform oscentationally beats the air. It denounces military rule, when the department commanders are quietly turning over their authority to the Governors and Legislatures chosen by the people, and amouncing their power at an end. It calls for the withdrawal of the Freedmen's Bureau, when Congress has provided, or is providing, for the closing of that Bureau in each State so soon as its machinery of loyal self-government shall have been put fairly in motion. The Platform seems anxious to atone, by the vehemence wherewith it de-nounces whatever has passed, or is passing away, for its cowardly equivocations and sub-terringes with regard to tangible and living

From the N. Y. World. We cordially indorse the financial part of the platform and will stand by every word of it. The platform proposes to pay the five-twentles in greenbacks; proposes to raise the money for this purpose by taxation, promises unequivocally that "the burden of taxation shall be lessened;" the credit of the Government made good; the currency made good; and that that good currency shall be the same for all classes, including the bondholders. We do not regard these several declarations as contradictory, but as mutually declarations as contradictory, but as mutually explanatory, perfectly consistent and harmonious. The Democratic party is pledged by the platform to appreciate the greenbacks to par, and to use them for the payment of that part of the public debt which is not by express provision of the law due in coin. That part of the platform which relates to the elective franchise

Factics of New York.

The platform adopted by the Democratic Con-

The platform adopted by the Democratic Convention is a strange mixture of fact and fustian, of courage and duplicity, of propositions that are lucid, and propositions that are muddy. It is bold to the verge of rastiness in regard to finances, equivocal in its allusions to reconstruction, contused in its exposition of fiscal and administrative reforms, diffuse and turgid in its arraignment of the raing party. It is the work, apparently, of different hands—one having the nerve inspired by clear and strong conviction, another accustomed to manipulate the commonplaces of partisan confession of faith, and a third crippled and weak under a burden of words in which we search vainly for precision or fairness.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Exit Jonathan Worth, the Quast Governor-He Submits to Force.

The following is a copy of a protest entered by Governor Worth, of South Carolina, on surrendering the office of Governor of the State to Mr. Holden, the provisional appointee of General Canby:—

rendering the office of Governor of the State to Mr. Holden, the provisional appointee of General Canby;—

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, RALEIGH, July 1, 1863.—Governor W. W. Holden, Raieigh, N. C.;—Sir—Yesterday morning I was verbally notified by Chief Justice Pearson that, in obedience to a telegraph from General Canby, he would to day, at 10 A. M., administer to you the oaths required preliminary to your entering upon the discharge of the duties of civil Governor of the State, and that thereupon you would demand possession of my office. I intimated to the Judge my opinion that such proceeding was premature, even under the reconstruction legislation of Congress, and that I should probably decline to surrender the office to you.

At sundown yesterday evening I received from Colonel Williams, commandant of this military post, an extra from the General Orders, No. 120, of General Canby, as follows:—

Headquaeters Second Military District, Charleston, S. C., June 20, 1863.—To facilitae the organization of the new State Governments the following appointments are made:—To be Governor of North Carolina, W. W. Holden. Governor elect, vice Jonathan Worth, removed; to be Lieutenant-Governor elect, to fill an original vacancy to take effect July 1, 1868, on the meeting of the General Assembly of North Carolina.

Id not recognize the validity of the late election, under which you and those co-operating

I do not recognize the validity of the late election, under which you and those co-operating with you claim to be invested with the civil government of the State. You have no evidence of your election save the certificate of a major-general of the United States army. I regard all of you as, in effect, appointees of the military power of the United States, and not as "deriving your powers from the consent of those you claim to govern." Knowing, however, that you are backed by military force here, which I could not resist if I would, I do not deem it necessary to offer a futile opposition, but vacate the office without the ceremony of actual eviction, offering no further opposition than this, my protest. I would submit to actual expaision in order to bring before the Supreme Court of size United States the question as to the constitu-I do not recognize the validity of the late elec-United States the question as to the constitu-tionality of the legislation under which you claim to be the rightful Governor of the State if the past action of that tribunal farnished any hope of a speedy trial. I surrender the office to you under what I deem military duress, without stopping, as the occasion would well justify, to comment upon the singular coincidence that the present State Government is surrendered, as without legality, to him whose own official sanction, but three years ago, declared it valid.

I am, very respectfully, Jonathan Worth, Governor of North Carolina.

TAMMANY HALL, July 8.—The Convention was

No More Praying to be Done.

National Executive Committee, published in the morning papers for all the most talented citizens as a candidate before this Convention for Presidential nomination, one of the best and purest men of the nation. Indiana had thought it right to cast her vote for a reasonable length of time for Pendleton. In the opinion of the majority of the delegation that reasonable time had passed, though the minority were still of opinion that they ought to adhere further to the gentleman from Ohio. The majority had no disposition, even if it had the power to force their views upon the minority. In conclusion, he briefly eulogized and named Thomas A. Hendricks.

Mr. Price (Ind.), for the minority, urged adherence to Pendleton, and expressed the hignest respect for Hendricks; but the minority could not go for him because the State Convention of their State declared decisively their preferance for Pendleton against the most earnest and persistent opposition. In accordance with that most talented citizens as a candidate before

The Interoceante Railway Commenced— Indigo Culture,

By Cuba Cable. HAVANA, July 8 .- Our latest advices from Trujillo, Honduras, are to June 26. The incorporators of the Honduras Interoceanic Railway had sent out a remittance of fifteen thousand pounds sterling to start the work on the road. The engineers had put the men to cutting timbers for sleepers and laying rails. M. Galinier is soon expected from France, and considerable curiosity is aroused to know the amount of capital that has been subscribed in France. M. Chabert, from Marsettles, is expected with a party of immigrants and laborers for a colony to improve the districts bordered by the Rio Ulua. According to the contract of M. Chabert and the degree promulgated in his favor the cultivation of indigo becomes obligatory on all the estates of the

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS.—Judge Petroe
The Court ngain met this morning to a very slim addence, and there were but two prisoners in the and lence, and there were but two prisoners in the dock, both lemales.

The moveling was taken up with the trial of Louis Goldstandi, upon the charge of perjury. The allegation in the indictment was that the detendant borrowed $375 from Louis Summerfield, and gave his note for the amount. Upon the maturity of the noie the holder brought suit upon it before alderman Hisberd, and at the hearing of that suit the defendant inlessly swore that he had received no consideration for it, but had given it as a matter of accommodation. In support of the charge a number of with receives were examined by the Commonwealth.

The defense offered testimous to prove that the defendant enjoyed an excellent character for veractly, and was entitled to the juliest credit. On trial.

The New York Money Market.

Prom the N. Y. Herald of to-day,

"The supply of money was abundant at four percent on can, but in some instances transactions were reported at five. The mercantile demand continue very light and the best grade of commercial paper is in request at five per cent. The street market was on the whole firm, although at in ervaits somewhat variable and irregular, Erle declining to 69% and then advancing to 70%, and Rock Island improving to 10%. The largest transactions were in the two stocks mentioned and Reading, which last was in demand at the close at an advance of half per cent, upon the opening price. The speculative feeling respecting railway shares is very buillen, the large carnings of the railways, and the highly promising crop prospects encouraging speculation for a rise, while inspiring a corresponding degree of timidity on the part of the bears. The action of the Democratic Convention was construed as favorable to an advance in railway stocks and a decline in Governmen securities, and temporarily this view of the case is likely to be sustained to a limited extent. The "tate stocks, and especially Tennessee size, were weak, the new bonds decilining to 83%. A telegram from Nashville annunces that Governor Brownlow has lasued a proclamation convening the Legislature in extra session on the 21st of July; but according to the Knoxville Whig, the main rollect he has in view is the suppression of the Kn-Knux Kla-by calling out the milita although it is fair to presume that the state finances will also edgage the attention of that body. How far it is in its power to afford relief to the creditors of the Sate in the present de noralized condition of its linances, it is, however, hard to say; out until the local revenues are increased the funds necessary for the risu lar payment of the luterest was suspended until such time as the Flate could resume payment on a legitimate bals."
